

Seven Steps

Sincere in wanting to help, and share, and give ideas to those who want to change.

*E*ach person may have different ways of thinking and learning, but we are unique so it doesn't seem strange.

*V*ery free, people who have grown up in the system have had many breaks in their life.

*E*veryone needs some type of support, especially ex-cons who've endured abuses, and become addicts full of strife.

*N*ow that there is a program available, some people will get help that is so badly needed.

*S*teps will have to followed and maybe repeated; but wouldn't it be awesome if we did the work and actually succeeded.
